

American Conference on Theoretical Chemistry
July 17-20, 2017
Boston, MA

The walk from the Hyatt to the Law Auditorium takes about 12-15 minutes depending how fast you walk if you follow these directions:

- (1) Cross Memorial Drive to the river at the traffic lights out in front of the hotel.
- (2) Take a right, heading in the direction away from Boston, and follow the bike/foot path out along the river, past the BU boat house and towards the BU Bridge. Across the river on your left as you walk you will see your goal, the tall concrete structure with big vertical red panels, Boston University School of Law.
- (3) Take a left onto the BU Bridge, which will cross the Charles River and then Storrow Drive that runs along parallel to the river.
- (4) As soon as the bridge passes over Storrow Drive on your left you will see the entrance to a green metal staircase that will take you down to a small service road / path that runs along parallel to Storrow Drive. Following this path back in the direction of Boston will take you to the entrance to the BU grounds indicated by a sign.
- (5) Once inside BU following this service road/path will take you directly to the Law Auditorium. On your right you will pass in back of the following landmarks: The George Sherman Union, where lunches will be served, The Mugar Memorial Library, then you will see a grassy space and courtyard area right in front of the entrance to the Law Auditorium. You made it, see you inside!
